Millennial Haven

Attracting and keeping the millennial workforce is front of mind for Williamson County. Reports show that millennials want a different lifestyle than its Generation X and Baby Boomer counterparts. Brentwood and Cool Springs will continue to work on providing these needs.

Reports showing an average growth of about 100 people a day are moving to Nashville and its surrounding areas. A good portion of that growth is from millennials – those between the ages of 23-35. Many reasons factor into why Nashville as a whole attracts this young and vibrant crowd but based on a recent Thought Catalog article – here are the top ten reasons why.
